

Come on Phillies
You know you can
World Champs twice
Do it again

Toms River
The Little League Stars
Shows the whole world
Who they are

Happy one-hundredth
Fenway Park
Now you have finally
Made your mark

Coors Field in Colorado
Makes all the balls fly
Once you hear the crack of the bat
Kiss it good-bye

There go the Yanks
Twenty-seven rings
Sometimes I feel
Like the ball has wings

The young Nationals
Are better than ever
They are smart, powerful,
And in the field, clever

The Cubs want to win
As the fans chant "beat the streak"
Until they get to the mountain
And reach their peak

As the Marlins
Try to rebuild
With a new logo and stadium
And all-stars who bring thrills

The Tigers
Are the NEW team to beat
But we'll have to see
If they can live up to their feat

The Angels and the Rangers
What bitter rivals they are
Josh Hamilton or Pujols
We'll find out who are the real stars

This year the Pirates
Are so underrated
Their not my favorite team
But you know I had to say it

This has been the rhyme
of America's Pastime

Gavin Gilronan age 9